

Reduce effective cost of warehouse by optimizing funding allocations and automating funding through loan sale tasks, with a seamless integration to the Byte LOS platform.

Simplify funding through loan sale.

OptiFunder automatically selects warehouse lines for the best financial performance saving IMBs millions of dollars of warehouse expense. OptiFunder's expansive product suite provides automation features from funding through loan sale, allowing originators to create and send funding requests for many loans, to many warehouses in a single click. OptiFunder automates processing and updates for wire confirmations, trial balance reports, Purchase Advice reconciliation, paydown request, collateral shipping and more. OptiFunder clients save an average of two or more days of dwell time, some cutting as many as eight days off the average.

OptiFunder + Byte Software

The OptiFunder/Byte integration allows OptiFunder to accelerate implementation for customers using the BytePro platform and makes it easier for warehouse lenders to transact business with their BytePro customers by removing the friction that makes it difficult for mortgage bankers to send loans to their warehouse partners.

OptiFunder is driven to provide solutions that are simple to use and administrate, with a focus on responsive, consultative customer service.

Streamline End-to-End Process for Scalability and Growth.

Scale your business by creating end-to-end operational efficiency. Byte Software is a leader in origination workflow management while OptiFunder brings innovation to post-close processes.

Reduce Operational Risk.

OptiFunder's process automation and reconciliation solutions replace manual input and calculations, virtually eliminating human error. No more copying/pasting from portal to portal.

Improve Implementation and Support.

OptiFunder is dedicated to one-on-one, timely support including same-day warehouse line terms updates.

Customize Your Solutions.

OptiFunder customizes the decision engine with the originator's warehouse lenders' terms and provides customizable, detailed business insights via robust analytics available on the dashboard.
